Ways You Can Place Your Order

Ordering Options for NFL FLAG:

- 1) Matrix
- 2) Bulk Order

Matrix

What are the benefits of placing my order through Matrix?

- All jersey quantities are automatically calculated for you, per size and NFL team.
- All additional merchandise quantities are automatically calculated, per product, size, and NFL team.
- Pack by Team availability – Receive your equipment packed by team. This service is complimentary if 3 or more merchandise items are made available to your customers for purchase during registration. Otherwise, it is available for $2.50 per player.
 - Pack by team is optional
 - Pack by team is only available on your first order per season
- Late Add Player Tracking – Matrix will automatically track any additional players added to teams, or any team changes after your initial order has been placed. When ready simply click the “Place Order” button to order equipment for those additional participants.

Am I eligible to place my order through Matrix?

To be eligible to place your order through Matrix you must answer “Yes” to both items below:

- 1) Are you ordering a jersey for every player?
- 2) Have you created teams and/or uploaded pre-formed teams to Matrix? *

For step-by-step instructions on how to place a Matrix order, please reference the How to Place a Matrix Order resource.

*If you answered “No” to question 2 above, and would like to place your order through Matrix, you could do so by following the steps above on the Matrix resource page to upload your players and create teams.

Bulk Order

If you answered “No” to questions 1 or 2 above your order must be placed through the bulk order flow in your League Central account.

Note: If you choose Bulk Order, you WILL NOT be eligible for jersey lettering or the Pack by Team option.

If you are not interested in putting information into Matrix you can always place your order directly through your League Central account, through Bulk Order. Please reference the How to Place a Bulk Order resource.
