A message from Boise Cascade

Hi friends,

Forests are special places. They provide homes for wildlife, clean air and water, and materials that help us build houses, schools, and other places where people live, learn, and work.

At Boise Cascade, we use wood to make products, so we have an important responsibility to care for the forests and the environment. We also have a distribution division that helps move building materials from our suppliers and manufacturing facilities to customers and communities across the country. Together, our associates work every day to use natural resources wisely and to help keep forests healthy for the future.

Thank you for helping us celebrate the U.S. Capitol Christmas Tree Tour and celebrating the beauty and importance of our forests. I hope this coloring book inspires you to explore, create, and become a good steward of the environment.
