BCI JOISTS
Floor Framing

Built to Perform

When it comes to high-performing floors, BCI® joists set the standard. Made with Versa-Lam® LVL engineered wood flanges, BCI joists provide superior stiffness and strength that outperforms. The result? Solid floors that are built to last, without squeaking or bouncing.

Get the consistent, high-quality floors customers want without sacrificing the ease of handling and quick installation you need. Every BCI joist is manufactured and tested to meet exacting requirements and specifications — delivering dependable results and fewer callbacks.

BCI JOIST ADVANTAGES

- Flat, quiet, and sturdy floors
- Lightweight design makes installation simple
- Versa-Lam® LVL engineered wood flanges for strong floors
- Long spans allow for cost-efficient floor and roof layouts
- Cut large holes, up to 22", in the web to easily run mechanicals and HVAC
- Can be trimmed on-site without specialized skills or tools
- 20% stronger than comparably sized dimension lumber

Convenience Comes Standard

Boise Cascade®
ENGINEERED WOOD PRODUCTS

Nationwide availability, fast delivery, and quality products come standard with Engineered Wood Products from Boise Cascade®. But we don't stop there — we raise the bar with a suite of software solutions designed to help achieve better results before the first nail is driven. It's an edge others simply can't offer. Behind it all is a dedicated team of software and engineering experts ready to provide the support you need, when you need it.

Need holes? No problem. Manufactured with convenient 1 ½" hole knockouts pre-stamped into the web, BCI joists provide a simple method for installing wiring. Additional holes can be easily cut on-site for quick installation of large mechanical and HVAC.

From planning to design to delivery, we're here to provide products and value-added solutions that work as hard as you do.
