Signs of a concern

Employees may report:

- Allergy-type symptoms
- Headaches
- "Mystery" illnesses
- Strange odors
- Water leaks

What we look for

Possible culprits could include:

- Chemical fumes
- Elevated relative humidity
- Inadequate air exchange
- Malfunctioning HVAC system
- Mold and water intrusion
- Issues from neighboring businesses

Our investigative tools

We use a range of tools to pinpoint the issue:

- Air monitoring equipment
- Employee interviews
- Laboratory analysis
- Thermal imaging

With EMC's expertise, you'll get a clear understanding of the problem and practical recommendations to improve indoor air quality and overall workplace comfort.
